

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

VOL. 4--NO. 5.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1834.

PRICE ONE CENT.

TEST YOUR BAKING POWDER TO-DAY!

Brands advertised as absolutely pure
CONTAIN AMMONIA.

THE B.P.T.

Place a top down on a hot stove until heated, then remove the cover and smell. A chemist will be required to detect the presence of ammonia.

DOES NOT CONTAIN AMMONIA.
ITS HEALTHFULNESS HAS NEVER BEEN QUESTIONED.

In a million boxes for a quarter of a century it has stood the commonest reliable test.

THE TEST OF THE OVEN.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.,
Makers of

Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts,
The strongest, most delicate and natural flavor known.

Dr. Price's Luscious Yeast Gums
For Light, Fluffy, Sweet and Dry B.
Yeast in the World.

FOR SALE BY GROCERS,
CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS.

A. MITCHELL.
Manufacturer of—

PURE HOME-MADE CONFECTIONERY.

Fresh every day. All kinds of Cream Cakes—made to order and sent in one and two pound boxes. Fruits of all kinds.

ROBINSON & CO.
Near Depot, Maysville.

OLD GOLD MILLS

(Formerly Maysville City Mills)

BRANDS:

Old Gold (Patent),
Royal (Patent),
Mason County Fancy,
Kentucky Fancy,
Our Choice Extra.

M. H. J. B. PADDOUR,
Fashionable

Dress Maker!

Dresses cut and made in the latest styles at reasonable prices. Second street, next door to Book of Maysville.

A. G. BROWNING, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office and residence south-east corner of Second and Main streets. Special attention to diseases peculiar to females.

Applauded. MAYSVILLE.

J. BLAKEBOROUGH,
Headquarters for—

Clocks, Silver Goods, Jewelry

The Boss Watchman Store. All work promptly and satisfactorily done, especially second, east of Market.

B. BROWNE & CO.,
Manufacturers of and Dealers in—

Stoves, Mantels, Grates

Tinware, Stoneware, Woodware, &c. Tin Roofing, Guttering, Spouting, and various articles of hardware. We have the best old stand, MAYSVILLE, Ky.

L. AND W. WORRICK,
Contractors.

ARCHITECTS and BUILDERS.

Plans and specifications furnished on reasonable terms and all work satisfactorily and promptly done. Office on Third street, between Well and Sutton.

M. OSE DAWLTON & CO.,
GOOD INTENT

Livery and Sale Stable.

A full line of all kinds of vehicles on hand for sale, hire or exchange. Horses kept by day, week or month. Largest and best arrangement for horses and drivers. We will allow as low as—Best attention to vehicles stored.

Telephone connection. No. 40 and 42, west
Second St., Maysville, Ky.

N. E. KELLY,

BISSET, McCLEANAHAN & SHEA

(Successors to Cooper & Bisset,

Dealers in Stoves, Ranges, Marble-
Mantels, and manufacturers of Tin
Copper and Sheet Iron Ware.

Special attention paid to roofing, gutters and spouting. Practical gunners and steam fitters. Wrought iron and lead pipes done. All work attended to promptly and afforded.

28 E. Second St., MAYSVILLE, KY.

F. FRANK B. HAUKE,

House, Signs and

ORNAMENTAL PAINTER.

Shop a few doors above Yancey & Alexander on Second street, opposite street, old.

A. D. BURGESS & CO., send for our Select Line of Local Newspapers, Geo. R. Howell &
Co., 10 Spruce street, N. Y.

THAT WONDERFUL LAKE

Mistassini Originally Discovered by the Jesuit Fathers.

Interview with Scientists Concerning
It—Fifteen Miles Wide by
One Hundred and Fifty Long
—The Location, Etc.

MONTREAL, Nov. 27.—Considerable interest has been manifested concerning a great lake of which Mysville is the northern portion of the city of Quebec, and which it is alleged has been heretofore almost unknown, although rivaling Lake Superior and the lakes of Central Africa in size. Accounts move or less recently have been given in a number of Canadian newspapers in which the matter is spoken of as practically a new discovery; in reality, however, it is not so.

A reporter has interviewed several personal men in Mysville, and in the course of his interview, he has learned that the Bonneau River, which flows into the lake, is the only outlet of the lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

The reporter has learned that the Bonneau River is the only outlet of the
lake, and that the lake is situated in the heart of the
country.

BREAKING INTO PRISON.

$3,000 Taken from the Safe of Kings
Co. (N. Y.) Penitentiary.

BOOKLYN, Nov. 27.—It has been described that the safe cannot be broken into by the use of tools, but that they can also break it into.

The prison looks secure from the outside, for it is surrounded by high walls and the windows are protected by stone iron bars. There are watchmen and guards inside the prison to prevent intrusion from the outside or to prevent an escape from the inside. The idea of an attempt being made by burglars to break into the prison is not unusual, but it is difficult to understand that it should be so difficult to break into the mouth of a lion.

It was not surprising, therefore, that Warren Green should be slightly vexed when he was informed this morning that burglar had broken into the prison and robbery had been committed.

The burglar entered a window in the steamer shop on the Carroll street.

They used a stone to break the window and then they took the door of the window apart.

They took up the door and then they entered the prison.

The burglar took $3,000 worth of property.

The burglar took $3,

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

THURSDAY EVE, NOV. 27, 1884.

CLEVELAND'S plurality in West Virginia is 4,221.

To collect $121,990,39 of internal revenue taxes last year it cost $5,100,000, or nearly five per cent.

It is reported that John R. McLean, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, is trying to buy the New York World.

Mr. HENDRICKS denounces as false the statement that there is any truth in the report that there is ill-feeling between Mr. Cleveland and himself. His recent visit was pleasant and there was no disagreement on any subject.

WISCONSIN will claim the honor of sending the youngest man to the Forty-ninth Congress in the person of Robert M. LaFollette. He is only twenty-eight years old, but has already made a reputation as a speaker and debater. Mr. LaFollette is a Republican.

ACCORDING to the returns received at Frankfort, Cleveland's plurality in Kentucky is 34,083. Cleveland received 152,757; Blaine, 118,671; Butler, 1,655; St. John, 3,106. Democratic majority over all, 29,322. Rhea, of the Democratic electors, received the highest vote, which is a little over 100 more than is shown in the table.

THE NEW YORK Times says: "The South has not only given a heavy vote to Democracy, but it has given to the counsels of the party more than its fair share of men of ability and character. That they have been systematically kept in the background in the party has been unfortunate, because if they had been given a fair chance they would have displayed much of the prejudice which political timidity has fostered. Under Mr. Cleveland's administration we have no doubt that the real leaders of the South will be enlisted."

A BATTLE WITH JACK RABBITS.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

The grand central hunt is always, of course, the principal feature of these excursions, and in its details very carefully arranged and carried out. Its arrangement consists, first, in the choice of a Captain, who commands all the forces of the party; in this year failing Mr. Sues, Capt. Sues selected his company into two parties, with a leader for each, and with each party was a horseman provided with a immense bags for game. The leader of all the horses, which were to take the game, was the horseman as soon as it accumulated.

Capt. Sues formed his company into two ranks, each headed by its leader, and at the word of command the company advanced forward in a double line. As it approached the rabbit ground, the two lines diverged to the right and left, marching in a diagonal course each way, and soon enclosing upon one side an area embracing several acres. As the proper signal the leaders directed their course toward each other, and an immense circle was formed, which gradually narrowing, caroled an army of rabbits which had been started by the spear of the spear, who had encompassed their city at the walls of Babylon were once encircled.

Then came the moment of excitement and each man grasped his gun, fearing that he would get nervous and fire before the signal was given, and the right and left ear on the other side of the circle. The rule is, that the first shot shall be fired by the man toward whom a rabbit runs and in the event of his failure to hit it, the next man takes a pup at the jump.

This rule was as strictly adhered to as possible, but the first two shots, the game ran in such a lively style that the country all around was ringing with the report of many guns for a very few minutes and the ground was strewn with dead rabbits so rapidly that the riders were kept busy picking them up while riding like crazy cavalrymen.

The result of the hunt was some 1,200 rabbits, and to add to the pleasure of a hunting party in the foreground, a fox, who was a skittish, sly, and who is a son of the sea as a one-legged dog, was of his missing limb.

The result of this year's excursion is about the same as that of the previous year, but the result took longer time by a day last year.

The private shooting of the members on the first day amounted to naught, as they left their game out all night and the coyotes came and devoured it.

CONDENSED NEWS.

MONDAY, WASHINGTON yesterday reported 47 below zero.

The statue of Hon. George Brown was unveiled at Toronto yesterday.

The Geographical Society of Berlin gave a banquet to Henry M. Stanley.

Fifty million dollars are required to move British expenses in the Soudan.

SENATOR VOIGEREN thinks that ex-Senator McDonald, of Indiana, will have a place in the Cabinet.

The paddle wheel of the Bethlehem Iron Company at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, will resume to-day.

W. B. PHILLIPS, a Harvard student, is lying at the point of death from injuries received while playing football.

THOMAS A. DIXON, Republican, has been elected to the Legislature from Rhode Island for the eighteenth class.

The Lake View House at North Auburn, Maine, is to be purchased and transformed into a reformatory for women.

MISS HARRIET DEFRUS, at Troy, New York, succumbed by pouring kerosene on her hair.

BLAINE's friends are anxious to elect President Arthur to the United States Senate from New York—to defeat Conkling.

MUCH of Governor Cleveland's time is consumed by politicians who call upon him with their demands.

The Old Colony Railroad Company held a meeting at Boston and decided to issue $3,000,000 six per cent bonds to run twenty years.

Gold mining in Michigan, while it is being worked industriously, has not yet made any body rich, but there are great expectations.

The New York City Committee voted to the Mayor of Philadelphia to send the old Liberty Bell to the New Orleans Exposition.

A meeting of General Passenger Agents is in session at Chicago, the object being to re-store rates on roads that have been making cuts of the party more than its fair share of men of ability and character. That they have been systematically kept in the background in the party has been unfortunate, because if they had been given a fair chance they would have displayed much of the prejudice which political timidity has fostered. Under Mr. Cleveland's administration we have no doubt that the real leaders of the South will be enlisted."

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S BANQUET.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Louis Burchard, a son of the alterative preacher, yesterday addressed a letter to Digby Blair, comedian, in which he said: "I am sorry to hear that you have been ill, but I hope you will be soon well again."

However, the German geographer and explorer, telegraphs the German territory to which he has occupied the territory on the West African coast north of Ango Pequena.

NOTES.—The President of the Western Union Telegraph Company, takes his pen in hand to say that the charges that the Western Union Telegraph Company has been guilty of malversation of funds, and in six or eight places issued and suite commenced.

THE CORRESPONDENCE between the Democratic National Committee and Mr. Conkling, which resulted in the defeat of the official vote of New York, is published. There is nothing startling about it.

H. R. THOMSON, of Texas, shot five times at A. T. O. HUBBARD, the defaulting cashier of the First National Bank, at Mountouchet, Maine. The bullet later came out of the Court House, but missed his man every time, and was arrested.

In his annual report, Attorney General Brewster says of criminal procedure is faulty.

The pleadings should be simplified, a uniform code of practice adopted, and the trial of technical objections and the cumbersome litigations that can now be interposed to prevent speedy trials.

As their report to the President the Utah Commission say that the law against poaching of game is only partially successful, because the Mormons persist in the objectionable practice, and he is to the young gentlemen informing him that through no fear of his threat, but from a sense of regret at having caused offense, he had ceased to employ the word reformed. He highly appreciated and respected the feelings which led to the sending of Burchard's letter.

THE ALIENATION PLAN.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—The Record says: "It is said that the alienation plan proposed by the administration will not be fully adopted, but will be partially adopted, and in six or eight places issued and suite commenced."

THE CORRESPONDENCE between the Democratic National Committee and Mr. Conkling, which resulted in the defeat of the official vote of New York, is published.

NOTES.—The first year failing that Mr. Sues, Capt. Sues selected his company into two parties, with a leader for each, and with each party was a horseman provided with a immense bags for game. The leader of all the horses, which were to take the game, was the horseman as soon as it accumulated.

IN HIS ANNUAL REPORT, Attorney General Brewster says of criminal procedure is faulty.

The pleadings should be simplified, a uniform code of practice adopted, and the trial of technical objections and the cumbersome litigations that can now be interposed to prevent speedy trials.

As their report to the President the Utah Commission say that the law against poaching of game is only partially successful, because the Mormons persist in the objectionable practice, and he is to the young gentlemen informing him that through no fear of his threat, but from a sense of regret at having caused offense, he had ceased to employ the word reformed. He highly appreciated and respected the feelings which led to the sending of Burchard's letter.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

(From the Denver Tribune Republican.)

Denver's Jack Rabbit Club, an association which annually makes an excursion and has for its object the keeping down of the census of the rabbit race in Colorado, met a few days ago from competing to hunting and as many have settled down to their regular business. This year's party included Dr. Burchard, Justice Jeffries, Constable Charlie Nadler, the Hon. Henry Sues, Capt. A. C. Kinnaird, W. W. Sedgwick, Mr. Mollenclift, Mr. Gruber, William Nordloh, Mr. Smith, Dr. W. Wyle De Wynter, and some six or eight others.

The ground selected for the battle this year was in San Luis Park. The party well stock'd with demijohns, wicker baskets, kogs and cigar boxes, none of the packages being empty or broken along for pure ornamentation. The departure was under cover of night, and the hunting day they arrived at Whittemore ranch at Vito Grove, where a headquarters was established. The following day a little disitory shooting was indulged in, but the central hunt was set for the second day.

THE BURCHARD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A special meeting of the Cabinet will be held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed plan for the reorganization of the Post Office.

THE DEAVER JACK RABBIT CLUB.

Perilous and Exciting Sport in the Wild West—The Deaver Jack Rabbit Club.

THE DAILY BULLETIN

THURSDAY EVE, NOV. 27, 1884.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Publishers and Proprietors,
TO WHOM ADDRESS ALL COMMUNICATIONS

With right good will,
In old time way,
Let's go to work
To keep the day.

HEMP at Lexington sells for $5.90 and $6.

Mrs. BELVA LOCKWOOD is advertised to lecture at Paris and Lexington.

NEWSPAPER advertising is the best. It beats all other methods combined.

Some of our citizens are using coke for fuel. It seems to burn very well in grates.

There will be preaching at Shannon Church next Sunday morning and evening.

A horse reared by Mr. Pat. Craven last night was drawn by Mr. Henry Has- son.

An exchange remarks: The summer girl is changing her ice cream smile to an oyster smiler.

The funeral of Mr. Paul Hoechlich will take place from the Presbyterian Church this afternoon at half past one o'clock.

Mr. JACOB BRADFORD, an experienced broom maker, has started a manufactory in the building of Mr. Wm. Edmunds, in East Maysville.

By request the Knights of Labor will repeat the hop at Cooper's Hall, this evening. The Maysville orchestra will furnish the music.

Sentimental but misguided young women who meditate marrying men of depraved and vicious habits with the expectation of reforming them later, may perhaps gather wisdom from a recent decision of the Supreme Court of Iowa. A young wife had made application for a divorce on the ground that her husband was a confirmed drunkard. The evidence showed that she had knowledge of his intemperate habits when she married him, and the judge refused the petition with these words: "You voluntarily chose a drunkard for a husband, and you should discharge the duties of a drunkard's wife. His failure to keep a pledge of reformation made before marriage does not justify you in deserting him. Having known a married a drunkard, you must make yourself content with the sacred relationship."

The Tellesthorpe Debate.

The debate conducted by Rev. J. W. Fitch, of the M. E. Church, South, and Elder J. S. Kendrick, of the Christian Church, closed Tuesday evening, after six days continuance. The following proposition were discussed: 1st. "The Baptism Instituted by Jesus Christ is Immersion." Kendrick affirmed, Fitch denied. Discussed two days. 2nd. "Infant Baptism is Authorized by the Word of God." Fitch affirmed, Kendrick denied. Discussed two days. 3rd. "To the Believing Penitent Baptism is for the Remission of Sins." Kendrick affirmed, Fitch denied. Discussed one day. 4th. "The Holy Spirit Operates Directly and Immediately in Regeneration or the New Birth." Fitch affirmed, Kendrick denied. The debate was largely attended all the way through, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather during a part of the time. The very best feeling seemed to prevail with every one throughout the entire discussion, and the debaters conducted themselves and the discussion to the entire satisfaction of their respective friends. Rev. J. S. Sims and Elder Morrison were moderators.

Masonic Banquet.

The banquet at the Central Hotel last night was one of the grandest ever given by Maysville Commandery No. 10. About one hundred and fifty visiting Sir Knights were present with their wives and sweethearts, and about one hundred and fifty lady visitors from Portsmouth and other places. The Central was in holiday garb and all available space was filled by spectators. The escort of fifty Sir Knights met the boat from Portsmouth and in Knightly order followed "the best band in Kentucky." The ladies were first escorted to the hotel and then the brotherhood were attended to the same place. About half past nine the doors of the banquet hall were thrown open and a table that seated two hundred was a sight for the Gods. Everything that the season could suggest from the Northern lakes to the Golden Gate appeared in abundance. Messrs. Simonds and their well trained corps of assistants handled the gathering in princely style. Dr. Henderson, of this city, was a most appropriate blessing upon the banquet and the guests. The coats were eloquently draped, the reply responded by the Sir Knights. The meeting was one of the most interesting in history of the Commandery.

PERSONALS.

Miss Anna Knox is visiting friends at Newport, Ky.

Mr. Lewis W. Pierce is visiting the family of Judge Stanton.

Colonel Richard Dawson left for Carrollton, Mo., yesterday, where he intends spending several months.

Miss Shockey Foe, from Hamilton College, Lexington, Ky., is spending Thanksgiving with the Misses Cummins, of Front street.

Mrs. E. J. Wilson, Mrs. L. F. Long and Miss Mary Singleton, by special invitation, are taking their Thanksgiving dinner to day with Mr. Cleveland.

A PLEASANT feature of the Masonic banquet, last night, was the presentation by Maysville Commandery No. 10, of a full Knight Templar's uniform to Mr. W. N. Howe and to Mr. George W. Tudor gold drum badge.

The Court of Appeals has decided that turnpikes, unless expressly exempt, are liable for taxes to county purposes. An abstract of the decision is printed in another column.

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

Business is improving.

Flame striking for winter setting.

Cloudy and cool weather is upon us.

Clouds are now the order of the day.

Ebenezer Watt, an aged citizen of this place, is seriously ill at this writing.

Mr. Heaton and wife have returned from a pleasant visit to Friends, Brown County.

Miss Fannie Boyd of Concord, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Danbury, of this place.

Harvey Cunningham, a first class harper, has opened his studio on Second street, where he will be pleased to see his friends.

Mr. Peter F. M. Stevenson, two solid farmers of this town, were in town Monday.

Harvey Cunningham, a first class harper, has opened his studio on Second street, where he will be pleased to see his friends.

John P. Purdon, a very active and influential Democrat, has moved to Cincinnati.

First—The set of March 17, 1876, authorizing the taxation of turnpike roads for county purposes is unconstitutional.

Second—In providing for the issuance of all county property bonds, the roads, the Legislature used the word "property" in its broadest sense and intended to include the interest of a company in a turnpike road, and not merely what little property it usually owns aroad.

Third—When a turnpike road extends through several counties, each county may tax so much of the road as lies with in its borders.

D. L. Thornton for appellant; Ira and W. H. Julian, for defendant.

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

BONNIE MARY ANN.

My sweetie's name was Mary Ann, And I am plain John Pender; And never a day has had any pleasure, But one slight, walking out with her, And then I had a great desire, To kiss it when she crossed the style, A big hole in her stocking, And then I had a great desire, I thought her quite a duchess, And then I had a great desire, To kiss her, and she wore her bonnets, caps or matches, But oh! while gazing in her eyes, That she should have, so dear a queen, A big hole in her stocking!

Her form, her face, her very breath— For I may tell it, in troth, Quite rare enough to feel it— And then I had a great desire, To kiss her, and she wore her bonnets, caps or matches, But oh! while gazing in her eyes, That she should have, so dear a queen, A big hole in her stocking!

I tried to wrench this from my mind, As in the way of duty, Then strive again my thoughts to bind, And then I had a great desire, To kiss her, and she wore her bonnets, caps or matches, But oh! while gazing in her eyes, That she should have, so dear a queen, A big hole in her stocking!

Now, bonnie lassies, far and near, Are you like me a walking灾? And are you like me a walking灾? Neglect to do your darning, It is a great desire, And sets one's heart a knocking, To have a sweetheart that would wear A big hole in her stocking!

—[George Dodge.]

COURT OF APPEALS DECISION.

TAXATION OF TURNPIKES—Frankfort, Lexington and Versailles Turnpike Road Company vs. Commonwealth.

(To be reported.) Filed November 22, 1884. Appeal from Franklin Circuit Court. Opinion of the Court by Judge Holt, affirming.

Mr. Heaton and wife have returned from a pleasant visit to Friends, Brown County.

Miss Fannie Boyd of Concord, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Danbury, of this place.

Harvey Cunningham, a first class harper, has opened his studio on Second street, where he will be pleased to see his friends.

John P. Purdon, a very active and influential Democrat, has moved to Cincinnati.

First—the set of March 17, 1876, authorizing the taxation of turnpike roads for county purposes is unconstitutional.

Second—in providing for the issuance of all county property bonds, the roads, the Legislature used the word "property" in its broadest sense and intended to include the interest of a company in a turnpike road, and not merely what little property it usually owns aroad.

Third—when a turnpike road extends through several counties, each county may tax so much of the road as lies with in its borders.

D. L. Thornton for appellant; Ira and W. H. Julian, for defendant.

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York, in which the defendant was bankrupt, the plaintiff's lawyer put the question: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "I don't know." Lawyer: "How many times have you lied?" Defendant: "Ah," retorted the lawyer, "how long have you been in that business?"—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

At a recent suit in New York,

